

NLRD83986 Learnership: Warehouse and Stock Management SCML01

Warehousing and stock control are often thought of as simple tasks which do not require much skill. However, with the sophistication that has been brought into the supply chain and the need for everyone to be attuned and functioning at their peak, many businesses have come to realise the importance of high quality training for warehouse personnel.

Benefits of attending this Learnership

This Learnership will provide the delegate with a detailed understanding of the responsibility given to him or her to manage functions within the warehouse. The Learnership provides insight into the impact that warehouse activities have on the greater Supply Chain.

Course Options

- Classroom Facilitated – can be conducted on-site
- Digital Blended Learning – Download your text books and participate in remote access lessons on line
- On-line learning – Download your text books and study at your own pace. Take quizzes and FSA's on line, submit your PoE on line
- Customised – all learning materials can be customised to include internal SOP's relevant to the business

Who should attend and prerequisites

This Learnership is aimed at Warehouse Practitioners who work in a Supply Chain environment and have responsibilities for activities in the warehouse and for working in a team. This Learnership also provides an excellent grounding for other Supply Chain personnel who need to understand how the warehouse activities can affect their own role.

Learners should be competent at NQF level 2 in English Communication and Mathematics. Previous experience with warehouse operations will assist the learner but is not a prerequisite.
